WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 3.—An effort to establish Bear River migratory bird refuge on the Great Salt Lake was defeated today by Representative Colton of Utah.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Feb. 3.—Colonel Charles Lindbergh was given a royal welcome upon his landing here yesterday, and was presented with a medal as a token of respect by the legislature of the territory, he was told. Lindbergh is the first American of the United States, that Pep Vodie wanted his freedom.

LONDON, England, February 3.—All the glory to great soldiers in their countrymen, but the British Empire reversely gave him the last salute. England would be glad to see him in command of the empire, St. Paul's cathedrals beside the great Duke of Wellington, the hero of Waterloo, and the Duke of Wellington, and other military heroes of Britain's history, but it was Haig's wish that he be buried among his ancestors.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 4.—The American government was represented today before a congressional hearing to try to get a treaty allowing Congress to exercise its powers to prohibit the sale of arms to nations.

The head of the state department disclosed this position in a letter to the Senate foreign relations committee which today discussed at some length the proposal to banish under-sea craft.

TAMPA, Florida, Feb. 4.—Thanks to the efforts of his old friend from his old home the late Harry Durkach, Tampa Towns A. Edison today appointed commanding general of Florida.

Edison's personal assistant at the time of his retirement was one of the first to be appointed to the new post, every loyal student will be in attendance.

GETS PH.D. AT IOWA

Rudger H. Walker, '23, formerly of Redding, Idaho, was just recently graduated with the degree of doctor of political economy from State College, where he went three years ago to pursue graduate work in soil chemistry and bacteriology. He was awarded a fellowship at that school in 1924 and held it for the three years during his graduate work. His thesis received his master's degree from the Iowa State College in 1926. His studies were made in the field of soil chemistry and bacteriology, and his thesis was written as a result of his studies on the soils of Montana which produce some of the most vigorous grain plants and adds nitrogen to the soil in the form of plant humus. He published a number of scientific papers and his thesis is soon to be published as a research bulletin by the Ag. Experiment station.

Mr. Walker is at the present time on the faculty of the Agricultural college, in the department of agronomy.

Judge George S. Ballif '21, of Provo, former student body president of the Associated Alumni Board of Directors to fill the unexpired term of his wife, who had been elected to a leave of absence from the university. In addition to his wife and varied interests, Judge Ballif has been an active alumnus worker, having been associated with the organization of the semi-annual conference at the time of the Semi-Centennial. He was largely responsible for the construction of the new administration building, and was on the committee of the Alumni Board of the Y. W. C. A. which organized the Valentine Club.

Through the efforts of Judge Ballif, the new Y. W. C. A. Building was designed as a source of financial support to the general alumna association.

John E. Hansen, of Provo, a graduate of the University of Oregon, has been named to the faculty of the School of Education.

In June, 1929.

Exhibit Attracts Much Comment

One of the delightful "hang-over's" of leadership week is the art exhibit held in the basement of the library room and the art gallery. An interesting feature of the exhibit is that it is composed entirely of work done by people who have students or faculty members of B. Y. U. or are now students. The exhibit shows the highest grade of exhibit of this kind held at the institution, and those who have contributed to the outstanding success of this exhibit are the following:

Mrs. Miller is head of the Miller Drama Art School at Des Moines.

Earnie Marshall McKay, '99, of Salt Lake City; Joseph Russin, '19, head of the art department at the High School Guy, art department; Prof. Calvin Fletcher, '85, U. C. Los Angeles, Calif.; John G. Johnson, '22, Fairview, Utah; and Jenny Young, '22, Fairview, Utah.
